

ROLAND WILLIAMS SPEAKER INTRODUCTION

Good (morning/afternoon/evening) ladies and gentlemen! It's my pleasure to introduce our speaker, Mr. Roland Williams.

Roland Williams is a professional speaker who has enjoyed tremendous success throughout his life. During his 8-year career in the National Football League, Roland's accolades have included the 1998 St. Louis Rams Offensive Rookie of the Year award, a 2003 American Football Conference Championship, and most notably, the St. Louis Rams' Super Bowl XXXIV Championship.

Williams has also received numerous awards including the prestigious NFL Unsung Hero Award, the Press Radio Club Pro Athlete of the Year Award, the Oakland Raiders Man of the Year Award (twice) and has been a three-time finalist for the Walter Payton NFL Man of the Year Award for philanthropy and citizenship.

Regarded by many as one of the most engaging and energetic professional athletes of all time, Williams is currently a television sports analyst, radio personality, entrepreneur, and professional speaker who takes pride developing everyday champions around the world.

Ladies and gentlemen, I give you, Roland Williams!